

The Confidence Creed

By Dr. Nicole Steele

*Confidence is my crown and I wear it well.
To the old habits and thoughts that held me hostage
I say farewell.*

*I am caped with clarity, confidence and courage, as I rise to greet each day.
Not dependent on myself,
but on my faith to lead the way.*

*So long to people pleasing and perfection and adios to self-doubt.
No longer will I seek to blend in,
Because I've been called to stand out.*

*As for competing and comparing,
I have no time.
I can fully celebrate others,
while knowing what's mine is mine.*

*I have gotten a glimpse of my destiny.
and I realize the greatness within.
Goodbye, procrastination and excuses.
My light no longer will I dim.*

*I inhale self-confidence, and I exhale self-doubt.
I am no longer relying on others to define what I am about.*

*I may not be perfect,
but PRICELESS I am;
assured of my value and worth,
and clear on where I stand.*

*I am predestined for a purpose,
and custom created with a plan.
No longer haunted by what I can't do but focused on what I can.*

Legacy is waiting for me to stand and claim what's mine.

*I rise with confidence.
I speak with confidence.
I stand in confidence.
I shine!*

*I place my confidence crown on,
properly adjusted and secure.
With wisdom, faith and grace
I know there is nothing I cannot do.*

*Today I choose to SHINE, with my head held up, not down.
I will run boldly towards my destiny,
clothed with confidence as my crown.*
